ARE YOU NEW TO BEING A MANAGER?

At times, employees are selected to take management positions in companies when they're not quite ready to take on that task. They may need a little help from someone who has experience to transfer knowledge and skills. Oftentimes, we, as managers, don't have time to coach them in areas where weaknesses get in the way of the person being the best they can be.

Our one-on-one focused course will help your company get that individual to the next level!

I know I can do the job.
I just need a little help!

THE COURSE CONTENT

This 4 hour course is a one-on-one training program intended to train your employee on areas of focus that you indicate are crucial to his or her success.

This program has given me the confidence to perform!

THE AGENDA

The agenda is driven by the trainer and focuses on 4 effective means of allowing the individual to learn what is needed to be a better manager:

- 1) Course content based on needs established by the manager
- 2) Lecture and activities that indicate to the trainer that the individual "gets it"
- 3) Role playing and feedback mechanisms
- 4) Action plan development by the employee to take back to the workplace in order to apply learning on the job

This method is very effective and affordable. Our one-on-one focus gives the individual specific and valid feedback mechanisms as well as take-away learning and materials that will make them more confident and more focused to the needs of the business. Where else can you get one-on-one training that is focused to the needs of the business?

The fog has cleared! I'm no longer the "accidental manager" because I have the tools and the confidence to be the best I can be!
